Explore real case examples and situations involving dentists that have been sued. Discuss the areas of practice most vulnerable and receive valuable advice on how to avoid potential lawsuits.

Key Takeaways:

- Learn how to identify situations which typically escalate into lawsuits
- Know what steps to take to mitigate the chance of a malpractice action
- Learn how to best communicate with patients from informed consent to discussing an unforeseen outcome
- Understand what resources are available to you to assist you in the event of a patient dispute or threat of lawsuit

ABOUT THE SPEAKER:

Mr. Ron Goldman, a native Californian, graduated cum laude with a political science degree from California State University, Northridge in 1978, and received his Juris Doctorate in 1981, from California Western School of Law in San Diego. In his early years, Mr. Goldman practiced personal injury and business litigation in San Diego; later relocating to San Francisco and shifting his practice to business law and malpractice defense for physicians and dentists.

In 1990, Mr. Goldman formed Goldman Law Firm, which consists of trial attorneys and associates who primarily defend dentists and physicians in malpractice. Mr. Goldman has been elected by his peers into the American Board of Trial Advocates, and dedicates time in assisting dentists with business and employment law; including associate agreements and practice sales.

Mr. Goldman serves as an Adjunct Professor with the Department of Orthodontics, at the University of the Pacific, School of Dentistry, as well as an Assistant Adjunct Professor with the Department of Growth & Development at the University of San Francisco, School of dentistry. Mr. Goldman lectures at UCSF and UOP several times a year on the subjects of risk management and business law for dentists on a national basis.
